

Fully Managed Solutions for Wireless Failover

If your primary network connection fails, do you have a backup plan?

Wireless Failover protects businesses against costly network disruptions caused by man-made or natural disasters.

It's not a matter of if a business will lose network connectivity, it's about being prepared for when it happens. MACH Networks offers cost effective Wireless Failover solutions that protect businesses from costly network disruptions. Our fully managed 4G LTE Wireless Failover solutions are specifically designed to help ensure mission critical networks stay connected 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year, protecting your business, your customers, and your bottom line.

Benefits include:

- ✓ Reliable connectivity delivering up to 99.999% uptime
- ✓ Seamless and automatic connectivity means no user intervention is required
- ✓ Automatically terminates the 4G LTE connection once the landline network service returns
- ✓ If an outage occurs, credit card processing, web-based orders, and other mission critical services continue business as usual
